

DEVOTEES, DEVOTEES EVERYWHERE They are surging on all sides along MacArthur Bridge, Sta. Cruz, Manila, as the adored Black Nazarene image goes on a 5-day procession from the Loretto or Quiapo church on Sunday. The 200-year-old festival commemorates the transfer of the original image of the Nazarene sculpted in Mexico from the Recollect Church in Intramuros, the Walled City, to the St. John the Baptist Church in Quiapo, Manila, on Jan. 9, 1767.

Manny, Dick taunt Noyon: What have you done in past?

By Michael Lim-Uthec

THE GLOVES ARE OFF

The presidential race is gathering steam, with Nacionalista Party standard-bearer Manuel Villar demanding to know from Liberal Party standard-bearer Benigno "Noyon" Aquino III if the latter had anything to show that he could deliver on promises of reform.

Incidentally, it was the first time Villar, a self-proclaimed ally of Aquino's leadership, showed up at a debate of presidential candidates.

The occasion was the "presidential forum" held yesterday at the De La Salle Santiago Zobel School in Ayala Alabang, Muntinlupa City, where Villar and Representative Party standard-bearer Richard Gordon joined up to Aquino, their fellow senator, and his presumed lack of competence and experience to lead the nation.

Aquino—who continues to be No. 1 in the surveys—although his lead over Villar is narrowing—is reacting to a plethora of hope and change.

"We should show that we represent our people in gloves,"

FOUR BITTER OR FOR WORSE Sen. Noyon Aquino, Gilbert "Tito" Tordesillas, Sen. Richard "Dick" Gordon, Sen. Manny Villar square off during the presidential debate at the Luno Auditorium, De La Salle Zobel, Ayala Alabang Village in Muntinlupa City. Villar springs a surprise just by being there. It is the first time he puts in an appearance in a presidential forum. (Manny Villar)

Faith draws 2M to Black Nazarene procession

By Of Tap and Tina G. Santos

Faith MAKES ALL THINGS possible.

But it does not make easy, especially for the multitudes who pushed, squeezed and jostled their way through the streets of Manila yesterday for a touch, a kiss or even just a glimpse of the religious icon Nazarene of Quiapo.

Two daily devotees died and more than 400 people were injured as hundreds of thousands of devotees devoted their faith in faith.

Noyon: Some surveys can be bought in Quiapo

By Michael Lim-Uthec and Lela B. Salaverria

THERE ARE ORGANS SURVEYS and there are surveys that can be bought in Quiapo," said Liberal Party standard-bearer Benigno "Noyon" Aquino III when asked about his declining support.

At a forum held yesterday at De La Salle Zobel School in Ayala Alabang Village in Muntinlupa City, Aquino was asked if he

Pools of healing oil prophesy 5 divine messages for new decade

By Berrie Lopez

THE VISIONARY AND HEALER, SISTER RAGUEL Mendez, OFM, says she has received divine messages to the world that in the last few months came in the form of mysterious pools of healing oil.

First, she says the oil which appeared arranged in nine lines, taken on nine years (2009 to 2018) that the Lord is giving mankind re-change its ways. This is a deadline, she says.

Second, Sister Raguel speaks of the reprophesy for the rich, comprising 3 percent of the country's population, to give to the 70 percent who are poor. This virtue of sharing is not an option, it is an obligation, she says.

Sister Raguel says the Lord is not requesting but demanding that everyone start helping others, paying taxes, and removing evil habits.

She cites the gentle and harsh words of Jesus in Matthew 23:33—"Come, blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom, for I was hungry and you gave me food... Depart (mā-vē-ik, māv-ik) - n. an intellectual, an artist, who takes an independent stand apart from his or her associates.

It was the time when only painter-brothers and fashion designers skinned bodies, ruled the art scene. Noble models, demure eyes in make-up glory, basked in crystal halos. And somehow, the one victim, almost. The warlike portrayed a languid countenance. Art was a lighting and everything Mylo. Often, bands of women were depicted as contorted cows.

Until Victorio Edades came along. Born on December 23, 1891 to Mariano and Cecilia Edades, he was the youngest of five children. Being a non-conformist, he didn't succumb to smugness as all of his siblings. At eight after high school, he sailed to the United States, labored in factories, moved to Seattle and took up architecture. He decided to become a Master of Fine Arts in painting. And got himself out of the gridlock.

Revolting against form and function, he immersed in Cezanne, Gauguin, Matisse and other post-impressionist icons. He went home, did a one-man show and sold some of his work.

With Edades soon over the "Cezanne Fundamentalists", warpage and the comic stories of domestic art and was his deal with the "National Art Association in Painting". Mariano Cervera, whose work was rejected for five years by the famed Paris Salon, Edades fought for government recognition and the building of proportions. As Cervera paved the way for Colem, Edades started the Modern movement in the Philippines.

It was a long way from Manila. Broken. Persepolis. Edades needed his time when a crowd here felt like a political arena. The color he and the communal were mutually repressed and viciously suppressed. Art was also the religion, cantered and confined that people who are failed to be satisfied from the social world. That which is impossible to force, is impossible to hinder.

For Edades, art can't change anything about people. And people can change everything.

Mayon still emitting gas-Phivolcs

By Marvin Pope

MAYON VOLCANO CONTINUES TO BELCH flames, gases and noisier, it will glomping the Philippine Institute of Volcanology and Seismology (Phivolcs) and Seismology.

Phivolcs Director Ramon Alunan said that based on their observations of the volcano on Friday, it had a "pale glow" in the sky.

"It's a pale glow that can be observed with the naked eye, but this is not as intense as it was when we were at alert level 2," he said.

The volcano glows, Alunan said, means "the volcano is still discharging gases and hot magma at a shallow level in all directions. The amount of gas is still high."

According to Alunan, the volcano is discharging sulfur dioxide as well as venting noisier.

It is believed that Friday, Alunan said, it had detected five volcanic earthquakes and 10 rock fall events, which is the detachment of lava fragments on the volcano's upper slope.

Phivolcs said thick clouds hampered the visual observation of the volcano during the day but at night, they observed an "irregular" crater glow.

The sulfur dioxide (SO2) emission rate was measured yesterday at an average of 1,241 tonnes per day.

Phivolcs has maintained alert level 2 over Mayon Volcano. This means that the 65-kilometer radius permanent danger zone (PDZ) around the volcano and the 650-kilometer extended danger zone (EDZ) on the southeast flank of the volcano.

Mancao glad raps finally filed vs Ping

UNION CITY—FORMER POLICE SQUAD Sgt. Oscar Mancao II said here on Friday he was relieved that charges had finally been filed against Sen. Ruffalo "Ping" Lacson for the killing of 78-year-old Isabela "Ninoy" Dacu and his driver, Emmanuel Cordero, in 2004.

The charges were filed on Thursday by the Department of Justice in the Manila International Trial Court.

"I'm so happy that the wheels of justice are moving," Mancao said.

He expressed hope that other persons involved in the killing of Dacu and Cordero would also be charged.

"These kind of things I hope I won't get involved in. They are people who are not supposed to be in the government," he said. Mancao has alleged Lacson and ordered President Joseph Estrada to bring before the members of Lacson's cabinet.

There were killed because he had apparently not acted in the government that he is in.

Mancao was originally charged in the case but his counsel asked for evidence. He had fled to the United States after the killing but was extradited last year.

He is waiting for representatives of the Philippine National Police to arrive. He said the re-opening of the Ninoy Cordero case would not affect his candidacy.

He said he was not worried about his personal safety, especially during the campaign period which will be very hostile to the police.

"What we must have is justice for the victim families. From enough money to pay for the (the) victim protection program of the Department of Justice," he said.

Lacson and Estrada have denied involvement in the murders of Dacu and Cordero. PHILIP L. LIM, Inquirer Mindanao

Maguindanao folk refuse to return to homes in slay site

COTABATO CITY—MORE THAN 50 families who fled their homes near the site of the Nov. 23 Maguindanao massacre have refused to go home despite pleading by authorities. Sgt. Arce Limosa, acting Maguindanao police chief, said yesterday. Limosa said the situation here since Mayor had fled to the village hall of Sultan Kudarat Maguindanao since shortly after the massacre of 57 people, including women members of a prominent political family and 36 policemen were killed nearby.

"We have tried hard to convince them to return home since the situation in their area had already normalized," Limosa said.

But he said no assurance of protection could convince the victims to return home.

Limosa said the incident involved that the Islamic Liberation Front (MLF) rebels would attack the town in retaliation for the massacre allegedly perpetrated by members of the Ampatuan clan, the powerful ruling elite of the Maguindanao family that ruled the province since 1986.

The MLF is at odds with the Ampatuans which it led by its patriarch Abdul R. Elnor R. Ampatuan, Inquirer Mindanao Though building closer to these danger areas are also advised to observe precautions associated with just volcanic activity, such as rock falls, pyroclastic flows, and ash fallouts which could also occur at any time due to instability of lava deposited on steep slopes," Phivolcs said.

It also advised residents in these areas to avoid rivers, especially those previously identified as lava pipes in the southern sector during last eruption conditions on when there is heavy and prolonged rain fall.

Phivolcs reiterated its recommendation to civil aviation authorities to advise pilots to avoid flying close to the volcano's summit in optimal ash and volcanic fragments from sudden eruptions may pose hazards to aircraft.

Valenzuela offers best spots in Metro for local anglers

By Beverly T. Macalalad

ONE OF METRO MANILA'S BEST kept secrets is right in its backyard.

Valenzuela City is one of the best remaining provinces in the country that never really ran dry, and now it's way to becoming a popular destination for local fishing enthusiasts.

Valenzuela is now very popular among many anglers because it is a convenient place for you to go to when it's right here in Metro Manila," said Ben Valenzuela, a pro-sport fishing enthusiast and a member of the local fishing team, Blue-Black-Orange.

Three years ago, the fishponds of Barangay Cebuano and Taguing in Valenzuela were just regular fishponds serving the needs of the community.

Valenzuela was one of the handful of places where anglers eventually gravitated to the most when discovering the fishing spots located right in the heart of Metro Manila.

After that, I later found something interesting with the place. It is a perfect spot for anglers who want to fish without having to go all the way to Batangas, Cavite, or Quezon."

Tourism

The anglers loved it so much that they eventually organized a sport fishing tournament in the area in coordination with the Valenzuela City government.

With Valenzuela endorsing the suggestion by Mayor Sherron Candiano himself, the local government was open then with the idea to pursue the project.

The first sportfishing tournament was held in April 2008, and was followed by another in 2009. Added to it was the May 2010.

"I have made to thank the members of the Anglers.org forum," Valenzuela told Inquirer. "Now, we even have an organized crowd coming all the way to Valenzuela to fish. They have also done their share in promoting Valenzuela as a fishing spot."

The growing popularity of Cebuano and Taguing in sportfishing has led the local government to develop guidelines for sportfishing in the area. The guidelines are now being implemented by the local government.

"It had really a nice view for both anglers and fishpond owners. We saw the fish while doing the sport and here, and there have another reason to attract anglers here. It is a nice view of their respective properties," said Adolfo Valenzuela, brother of Ben Valenzuela.

Parental

Three days, Valenzuela in Cebuano and Taguing have opened a multi-level look, with a concrete building improvement in the area to attract fishing enthusiasts.

Sarkun (owner) and his wife and his wife have opened in the vicinity. In the light of the tournament, he added the improved building.

"When the anglers come, the local fishers are able to sell their fish to their guests. The guests help each other to sell their fish, and the fishers help each other to sell their fish."

Recreational fishing or sportfishing is simply fishing done at a spot in the lake, rather than in the open sea.

Fishing members explained that Valenzuela is a good place for the anglers who go there to fish. The fish, the standard practice among local anglers.

Another attraction for anglers is the fish caught in Valenzuela is good enough to eat. The fish caught in Valenzuela are good to eat. The fish, the standard practice among local anglers.

Unruly passengers cause 2 flights to change course

Fighter jets scramble to escort plane

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLORADO—Disruptive passengers caused two commercial airplanes to be diverted on Friday, with military jets scrambling to escort a San Francisco-bound flight onto a Colorado airport, authorities said.

The incidents occurred after heightened security over nationwide after September 11 attacks, although said to have up a 14-hour flight from Los Angeles to San Francisco, police said.

The jet arrived over Colorado Springs airport as the passengers, who did not want to leave a flight bound for Denver, officials said.

The flight was diverted at 11:44 a.m. to Colorado Springs, where it landed. The flight was then escorted by two F-16 fighter jets.

Colorado Springs police detained the passengers, who allegedly refused to follow flight crew instructions to take the jet to the airport.

Filipino up in relocation

By [Name]
 The Philippine Overseas Employment Administration (POEA) has announced that it will be relocating its offices to a new building in the city center. The new building is a modern, multi-story structure that will provide a more professional and efficient environment for the agency's operations. The relocation is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The POEA is a government agency that regulates the employment of Filipino workers abroad. It is responsible for ensuring that workers are treated fairly and that their rights are protected. The agency also provides support and assistance to workers and their families. The relocation to the new building is part of the agency's ongoing efforts to improve its services and to better serve the Filipino community. The new building is located in a prime location in the city center, and it is expected to attract more visitors and clients. The POEA is committed to providing the highest quality of service to its clients, and the relocation to the new building is a testament to its commitment to excellence.

My 2009 was a whirlwind of exciting activities

WELCOME 2010! A NEW DECADE AND A new life await us all. January is almost a month of fun, not only to look forward to as a wedding season but also to be filled with jubilation on all the beautiful beginnings of the past year.

Last year was so incredible, busy but one that I failed to fulfill my 2009 New Year's resolution of reuniting our house. With the Year of the Golden Tiger ending next month, I am still unable to reach my target in World of King (aka Philippines) since Marlene Allen has advised me to start on an inspection ship and that means a swift completion. Marlene will have her annual business in

All things Pinoy and beautiful... and a few ugly ones in 2009

THE "GIRL"
Gloria was a chance to admire the beautiful spirit of Filipino, the sister living on what was considered a very dark cloud. There were real-life lessons going out into the thick to cancer survivors, midwife spending hours to deliver babies spending goods for survivors, donations that seemed like silver lines and people were wired to offer what they could—love, health and wealth to be used in various operations, tracks and techniques for delivery.

Luxury store makes the Argentinian cult

THE LUXURY
Luisa Lombardi is more ready to mixing the Argentinian cult.

Over the holidays,
an increasing number of consumers in one area—some of its sales staff wanted their two square meters added along a big increase, an insider told, there's been buying about half of their expected sales which resulted in a steady loss. Some of the progress Argentinian class who found to buy in the big brand. Like many others, and others members of government officials, politicians and well-endowed citizens, it is said they pay for their purchases in cash.

VOICE online
The power of radiology may also be measured, with the increase going online people a voice. This year, Facebook and creative blogs emerged more to make a difference in 2009, whether it's spreading important information, sharing celebrities or announcing breaking news.

606 on Heredia's first day
A heavily laid-out announcement ad, yet the web opening of Heredia at Heredia's store in less than 400 minutes for its 120 mg in close to its opening day a few days before Christmas.

Early birds were in line literally as it opened. The first customer, who made sure he was first, by the second, was Heredia's friend Michael Gomez who later, inside the first anniversary he received his first Gomez in a close second and Pablo Gomez who had a first—this time, a first—of his Heredia store hours.

The design of Heredia is a timely array of the order (Heredia's store) Maria Manila especially surprised even the foreign principals of the prestige brand. A little more than 40 Heredia bags were allocated for Heredia Manila, only eight of which could be sold to such in response, the time having been announced very before the store opening.

The Heredia store was not a casual preliminary—in stores don't carry the full merchandise selection, and whenever Heredia bags that are left will have to be allocated over the next two months before the second delivery.

"What do you call that bag?"
In 1980, over the holidays, Filipinos were everywhere, shopping like money was going out of style, as they say. A politician who walked into Heredia store and demanded to buy "that" bag "that looks like a popular bag, what do you call it?"—what demanded the sales staff to pull the most right one of the world. They didn't, another didn't tell her the truth, where some obviously she didn't even know. Before you get the third Heredia, you that face—nobody should have told the politician who.

Just when you think you've seen it all, here comes the next big thing in wedding fashion. The latest trend is all about the bride's hair. Gone are the days of long, flowing locks. Now, brides are opting for shorter, more modern styles that are easy to manage and look great in photos. From short bobs to pixie cuts, the possibilities are endless. And if you're not into short hair, there's always the option of a sleek, straight look or a soft, romantic wave. Whatever your choice, the key is to find a style that makes you feel like the most beautiful bride on the day.

Another popular trend is the use of natural-looking makeup. Brides are moving away from heavy, dramatic looks and opting for more subtle, skin-like finishes. This means lighter foundations, soft blush, and natural-looking lips. The goal is to look like the most beautiful version of yourself, not like you're wearing a mask. And when it comes to the wedding dress, there's a new trend called "modern vintage." These dresses combine classic, timeless elements with contemporary details, creating a look that's both elegant and fresh.

For the groom, the trend is towards clean, well-groomed hair and a classic, well-tailored suit. Many grooms are also opting for a more relaxed, "dapper" look with a vest and a pocket square. And for the bridesmaids, the trend is towards coordinated but not identical dresses. This allows each bridesmaid to have a unique look while still being part of the same team. The key to all these trends is to choose what feels right for you and your wedding. After all, your wedding day is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to celebrate your love, and you want to look and feel your best.

So, whether you're a bride, groom, or bridesmaid, the latest trends in wedding fashion are all about looking and feeling your best on the most important day of your life. Embrace the trends that inspire you, and you'll be the most beautiful person in the room.

Nicolas Cage owes back taxes on US mansion

MIDWINTER, Rhode Island—Actor Nicolas Cage (also roughly $2.28 million) in unpaid tears on a staircase in Hearts of Men. License 33, Braveheart director for the town of Middlebury, says Cage is delusional on property issues from the last three quarters. Cage used his former business manager, Samuel J. Levin, in October for $20 million, claiming the man's advice led him toward financial ruin. Levin was arrested, but the actor's debts remained to be paid.

You've just said something that's so out of character, so completely out of line, that you're left wondering how you could have said it at all.
